Small Talk Role Play

At Work before meeting starts

A. Hi Shreya, how's your day going?

B. Pretty good, just catching up on emails. How about you?

A. Same here. This week has really been busy!

B. Tell me about it! I am glad the weekend is almost here.

A. So have you got much planned for the weekend?

B. Oh yes! I will be watching a movie "Fantastic four"at Inox with my friends and shopping for Diwali.

A. Gosh! that reminds me to shop for Diwali too.

Coffee break conversation

A. That coffee smells amazing. What did you order?

B. It's Madras filter coffee. They make the best one here.

A. Oh nice! I usually get ginger tea. Maybe I'll try that next time.

B. You should! Its's really good.

Simple every day talk about the weather

A. The weather has been so unpredictable lately!

B. I know! It was sunny yesterday and now it's raining again.

A. Typical October weather, I guess.

B. True- I never leave home without an umbrella these days.

A. That's right. I missed to carry an umbrella yesterday and I got drenched in the rain.

At a social gathering

A. Hi, I am _____. Nice to meet you.

B. Hey, I am _____. Nice to meet you too.

A. This event is really well-organized, isn't it?

B. Yes! And the music is great. Have you been to one of these before?

A. No, it's my first time-but I'm enjoying it so far!

Small Talk while Travelling

A. Hi, is this your first time flying to Delhi?

B. No, I've been there a few times for work. How about you?

A. It's my first time. Any places you'd recommend visiting?

B. Definitely! you should check out Jantar Mantar and Red Fort.

A. I heard the street food is awesome in Delhi, can you suggest some place for tasting local delicacies?

B. "Paratha corner" in Chandni Chowk is a must visit for Aloo paratha & Chana Bhatura.
